Card From the First National Directors.

Editor of Bourbon News:—

On the second day of April, 1912, you published an article in your paper containing the express charge that the First National Bank of this city contributed a sum of money to be used by Mayor Hinton in procuring the election of a Democratic councilman from the Third Ward over his Republican opponent. We, the directors of the First National Bank, state that the charge is untrue. The First National Bank did not contribute any sum to be used by Mayor Hinton in influencing that election, nor has it ever contributed any sum at any time for or against any candidate in any election. The publication referred to does this bank a serious injustice, is libelous in character, because the charge, if true, would be a violation of the Act of Congress prohibiting contributions from National Bank for campaign purposes, and we demand that you publish this statement, and a full and distinct retraction of the charge, and give the retraction as wide a publicity as the original misrepresentation.

The foregoing communication was received by us on yesterday and we cheerfully publish same and wish to say in reference to the matter mentioned therein that the article referred to does not charge nor was it intended to charge that the First National Bank contributed any sum to be used by Mayor Hinton in influencing the election mentioned, nor does it charge nor was it intended to charge that it ever contributed any sum at any time to be used for or against any candidate in any election. The News, in the publication referred to, did not intend to make any statement or any charge that would reflect upon either the National Bank or any individual, but was merely reported that which was currently talked about in the county, and only so stated it.

Vaudeville at the Grand.

The vaudeville season at the Paris Grand opened last Monday night to a packed house and pleased audience. The bill was changed on Wednesday night and both acts were declared by all present to be the best seen here in many years. Miss May Mulligan is about as dainty and pleasing a little miss as has ever appeared here, and her songs, recitations and dances have made her a prime favorite. The Musical Wilsons have a splendid act, far ahead of the average, and it is safe to say no act seen here in many years was more thoroughly enjoyed.

Another big bill is promised for tonight. Ada Carlton, singing comedienne, and Fritchie and Adams in a nautical absurdity entitled "Fun in a Fog," introducing snappy and musical numbers.

Ball Players Begin to Arrive.

Manager Joe Lewis with eight of the Bourbonites recruits put in their appearance Wednesday to enter on the three weeks of training before the beginning of the Blue Grass League season. While there are many more to come those that are here are taking advantage of the beautiful weather and yesterday morning and afternoon the squad was out at the park, going through a few preliminary maneuvers. Several of the men are in good shape owing to the fact they have done some little practice since the opening of spring.

Pitcher Pete Wood, who came i last week, has not lost a moment and in spite of the absence of training mates on his arrival took up the work of conditioning all alone. Accompanying Manager Lewis was Reuben Koehler, of Marietta, Pa., who came up with the Bourbonite leader. Others to arrive Wednesday were E. Clark, of Cincinnati; H. S. Blankenship, of Anglin, Ky.; Clem Howard, the Cynthiana boy, who will try for a position on the infield; P. A. Galloway, of Albany, New York, and Joe Popkin, of Covington.

The members of the team are domiciled at the Fordham Hotel. They have taken to the work of training readily and it is the prediction they will be equal to the occasion of stacking up against the strong Wiedemann club Sunday afternoon at White Park. The remaining members of the club now under contract are expected to put in their appearance today and this afternoon the entire squad will be out at the park working like Trojans to get themselves in condition.

Nothing has been heard from either Hauser, Kuhlman or Harrell, three members of last year's pennant winning organization, although President Bacon communicated with them the early part of last week. It is expected that Kuhlman will come across with his contract some time in the near future, but as to Hauser and Harrell nothing definite can be stated. Local fans are very much put out over the refusal so far of Hauser to send in his contract. He was looked upon as one of the mainstays of the team this year on the pitching staff, and from his performances last year should have developed into a hurler of extraordinary ability. However, there will be nothing lacking this season when it comes to pitchers for the local management has gathered together what is thought to be some of the best material ever before assembled here during the training season from which to pick a quartet of hurlers to go through the season.
